

Dear Government,

We've had some good times and bad times over the years, mainly bad times, but we got through them.

Throughout our relationship you've changed though.

We feel as if we are growing apart.

You're just so wrapped up in big corporate money that it seems like you forgot all about us, the people.

We think it would be best if we just separated before things get worse.

We think the love has been gone in this relationship for a long time.

We see the way you look at corporate money.

It's the same way, you used to look at us.

We wish you the best and we are sure, you will find the greed, power, deceit and genocide, you so desperately crave. But then, without our help, without our consent!

With love,

We the People

PS: Please move out ASAP!
